Year: 2010 final de dezembro

Optional Fields:
Abstract: AIM: To identify and assess studies reporting the diagnostic accuracy of ultrasound imaging for chronic liver disease (CLD) in a high risk population. METHODS: A systematic review was conducted to assess the accuracy of ultrasound imaging for CLD. Two authors independently used the quality assessment of diagnostic accuracy studies (QUADAS) checklist to assess the methodological quality of the selected studies. Inter-observer reliability of the QUADAS tool was assessed by measuring the degree of agreement (percent agreement, K statistic) between the reviewers for each assessment prior to a consensus meeting. The characteristics of each study population, sensitivity and specificity results for the index tests, and results of any testing for observer agreement were extracted from the reports. Receiver Operator Characteristic plots were generated using Microsoft Excel 2003 software and used to graphically display the diagnostic performance data and to explore the relationships between the reported ultrasound techniques and study characteristics, and methodology quality. RESULTS: Twenty-one studies published between 1991 and 2009 were retained for data extraction, analysis and assessment for methodological quality. Assessment of methodology quality was performed on the 21 selected studies by two independent reviewers (RA & KT) using the QUADAS assessment tool. Across all studies the

The screenshot displays the ENDNOTE BASIC software interface. At the top, the title 'ENDNOTE® BASIC' is visible. Below it, a navigation bar includes tabs for 'My References', 'Collect', 'Organize', 'Format', and 'Options'. Under the 'Collect' tab, there are links for 'Online Search', 'New Reference', and 'Import References'. On the left side, there is a 'Quick Search' panel with a search input field and a dropdown menu set to 'All My References'. Below this is a 'My References' section showing a list of folders and groups, including 'All My References (166)', 'Unfiled (16)', 'Quick List (0)', 'Trash (1176)', and various 'My Groups' like 'EBSCOHOST (6)', 'LILACS (40)', 'Meditação (7)', 'PeriodicosCientificos (10)', 'PortalCapes (1)', 'Pubmed (20)', 'PubMed (9)', 'Redes Sociais (29)', 'RevisaoSystematica (14)', 'Scielo (3)', and 'teste (11)'. At the bottom left of this panel is a 'ResearcherID' badge. The main area is titled 'Online Search Results' and shows 'PubMed MEDLINE 1 - 10 of 10 results' for the search term '"women's health" in Abstract'. It includes a 'Show 50 per page' dropdown and a 'Page 1 of 1' indicator. Below this is a table of search results with columns for 'Author', 'Year', and 'Copied Title'. A red circle highlights the 'Add to group...' dropdown menu in the table header. The table lists several articles, with the third one by Evans, J. L. selected with a checkmark.

Editando as citações

O estudo da trajetória ocupacional de três agricultores de base familiares que, desenvolvem uma agricultura voltada à sustentabilidade dos sistemas produtivos, buscou identificar e compreender as razões que levaram essas famílias a adotarem sistemas de produção de alimentos diferenciados como estratégias para permanecerem no meio rural com agricultores. (Burke e Hutchins, 2007) Num primeiro momento buscou-se caracterizar o ambiente onde se localizam as unidades familiares, bem como relatar as transformações ocorridas na agricultura nas últimas décadas. (Shuck, 2011). Destaca-se também, o fortalecimento em todo o mundo das iniciativas voltados à produção de alimentos livres de agrotóxicos e produzidos de maneira a respeitar o homem e, o ambiente. A partir do entendimento das relações entre homem e natureza, os agricultores se adaptam às tendências do momento. (Carliner, 2011).
